EFFORT BEING MADE TO AVERT COAL STRIKE

BY CONFERENCE OF MINERS-OPERATORS WITH COMMISSION

COMPLETE ABANDONMENT OF "CHECK-OFF" SYSTEM BY BOTH SIDES PROPOSED

MATTER WILL BE THRESHED OUT AT CONFERENCE TODAY. SUCCESS HOPED FOR

(By United Press)
New York, Aug. 16.—A demand by anthracite miners for an increase in wages of $2 a day, new problems raised by the operators in a morning conference with the United States Coal commission, and a general air of dissatisfaction among the union officials over the unexpected and informal agreement on mutual abandonment of the "check off" made it evident this afternoon that there was still much to be accomplished before the specter of a hard coal strike this fall can be said to be definitely abolished.

New York, Aug. 16.—Anthracite miners and operators go into conference with the United States Coal Commission today to thresh out a compromise which will avoid a strike scheduled for two weeks from Saturday.

Miners will give their answer to the sudden decision of the operators for complete abandonment of the "check off" by both sides.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in a supplementary proposal, pointed out that the operators had practiced the check off on the miners' salaries for seventy years for rents, grocery bills, etc., suggesting that it was unfair for them to continue the practice unless they permitted the unions to check off for union dues.

Operators immediately answered this proposal with an agreement that they would cease their practice.

Union officials had considered it inconceivable that the operators would ever abandon their checkoff. The unions wanted the check off written into the contract so that it would be official and legally recorded that the operators recognized the union and sanctioned its right to collect due from employees.

The union, however, based its plea for the check-off on the fact that the operators own stores where miners buy, taking the cost of such things out of salaries.

This practice has been in force for 70 years, largely to facilitate matters for both sides. Observers believe that abandonment of the practice will force operators to install new arrangements for the purchase of supplies, and that it would result in charging miners higher prices for their products.

President Lewis did not indicate that he was willing to abandon the demand for the checkoff in the original list submitted to the coal commission. The original demands were for recognition of the check off, an eight-hour day, wage increases and other matters to be left to joint negotiation. A proposal for abandonment was contained in a supplemental statement which pointed to the check-off "as a minor business arrangement which the anthracite operators now enjoy."

MINERS' CONFERENCE REACHES DEADLOCK

New York, Aug. 16.—The conference between miners, coal operators and the government coal commission reached a deadlock this afternoon when John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, announced the tentative agreement promised on the checkoff system could not be followed out.

Lewis said that examination of the operators' statement on the checkoff disclosed it to be "extraneous, misleading and confusing."

"It doesn't mean anything," Lewis said, "except that operators are trying to force the open shop on mine workers."

"The United Mine Workers can-

TELEPHONE COMPANY GIVEN RATE INCREASE; PHONES ORDERED OUT

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—Mayor Lew Shank today ordered telephones removed from the city hall in retaliation for increased rates.

The rate increase was temporarily granted by a federal court order which enjoined the Indiana Public Service commission from considering a rate decision pending a hearing of the dispute before three federal judges.

Phones in several offices of the city hall were removed today, and Mayor Shank declared he would "yank them all out to prove to the Indiana Bell Telephone company that the people of Indianapolis are not going to stand for the outrage any longer."

The temporary rate increase hearing was granted by Judge Page, Ohio. It enjoined an increase of $1,000,000 annually granted by the I. P. S. C. and placed in operation a larger increase demanded by the company.

BOY SUICIDES IN ILLINOIS SCHOOL

SUPERINTENDENT IS SUSPENDED AND TWO INSTRUCTORS DISCHARGED AS RESULT

(By United Press)
Chicago, Aug. 16.—Superintendent Fred E. Smith of the Chicago Parental School, a truancy institution, was suspended, and two instructors were discharged in connection with charges brought by the coroner probing the alleged suicide of James Wright, 15, an inmate, which is continued today.

A. R. Davis and Timothy Shea, instructors, were discharged by Chas. M. Moderwell, president of the board of education, after what Coroner Oscar Wolff termed "testimony alleging revolting, unspeakable and unprintable punishment of two boys in the school," had been introduced.

Wright was found hanging in the "guard house," a solitary confinement cage in the institution, by Davis Tuesday. The boy had committed suicide for having in his possession poisonous acids with which he intended to make an attempt against the lives of Davis and Mrs. Davis, Superintendent Smith said.

The cage was also ordered discarded.

not accept it," Lewis said.

This action threw the conference back to the place where it was in Atlantic City. Talking to newspapermen, Lewis went over the operators' agreement point by point. He showed where each section was unacceptable.

"At first glance this morning," Lewis said, "the operators appeared to have fulfilled the miners' demands, but I found many deficiencies after I went over the document carefully with the Commission."

"In the first place, the first paragraph of the agreement said mine workers had abandoned their demand number one."

"We did not do that. We agreed to abandon our checkoff if the operators would agree to abandon theirs."

"In our demand number one is a specification that the operators shall recognize the United Mine Workers of America. The duration of the contract for two years is also mentioned."

Lewis emphasized that miners will not abandon their demand for the checkoff unless it is abandoned by the operators.

"We cannot agree to the operators' interpretation," he said.

KILLED MINNEAPOLIS POLICEMAN WHO HAS BROTHER-IN-LAW AT BRAINERD

IS REPORTED TO HAVE ESCAPED IN ROADSTER EAST OF ST. CLOUD, MINN.

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Aug. 16.—With police of the entire state on the alert, no trace had been found early today of William Stauffer, gunman, accused of four murders.

Louis W. Taylor, president of the Red Top Cab company, shot by Stauffer Tuesday night, was still in a critical condition.

Masonic bodies will bury Emil Engstrom, policeman, who was killed by the desperado when the latter essayed to arrest him for a robbery.

Stauffer is sought also in connection with the murder of John Rau in St. Paul, Oliver Erewyer and Bryan De Witz in Minneapolis. All died in holdups.

Two women friends of Stauffer's are being held by St. Paul police for questioning. They are Helen Ames and Lois Wilson.

Stauffer, alleged dope fiend, was reported to have escaped east of St. Cloud in a roadster with his companions. Mill City police, however, continued their search here, believing him still in Minneapolis.

(Note: Emil Engstrom, Minneapolis policeman shot by Stauffer on Tuesday night, is a brother-in-law of A. P. Nelson of Brainerd.)

WHEAT ACREAGE GREATLY REDUCED

REPORTS FROM VARIOUS STATES INDICATE GREATLY REDUCED WHEAT ACREAGE

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—The wheat acreage of Indiana will be cut 378,000 acres this fall, according to Geo. C. Bryant, state statistician for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, today. Last year's planting amounted to 2,221,000 acres.

NORTH DAKOTA CROP REPORTED SHORT

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 16.—The wheat crop will be far short of anticipated production this year, according to the weekly crop report issued today.

Wheat is producing only 8 to 9 bushels an acre. Rye is also short, but producing from one to 15 bushels an acre in different localities. Flax is fair. Potatoes are good.

The corn crop is excellent, and if frosts hold off a few more weeks, permitting the corn to ripen, North Dakota production this year will exceed all previous years.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 16.—Wheat acreage in Michigan will be reduced fully 15 per cent this fall as the result of low prices and a poor crop this year, V. E. Church, agricultural statistician, estimated.

Kansas City Kan., Aug. 16.—Wheat acreage in Kansas will be reduced approximately 50 per cent this year, according to estimates gathered from leading agricultural experts today by the United Press. Dissatisfaction with low prices, discouragement over crop failures and inability to pay cash for seed or give a bankable note have resulted in cutting the acreage by one-half.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 16.—Wheat acreage in Nebraska will be cut 25 per cent this fall because of low prices and poor yield this year, it was declared today by A. E. Anderson, State Agricultural statistician.

DAYTON, O., CASHIER IS SHORT $290,000 IN HIS ACCOUNTS

(By United Press)
Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 16.—Alleged shortages in the accounts of Fred W. Hecht, second vice president and cashier of the American National bank, had mounted to $290,000 late today, according to federal bank examiners.

This sum may be increased, it was indicated by the report. It was said by directors, examiners and by Hecht himself that the full amount was not known to any of them.

Until all notes in the bank, totaling $953,000, are investigated, the full amount of the alleged default will not be known. The doors of the bank are closed.

BIGGEST WHISKEY RING IN COUNTRY BROKEN BY WOMAN

SHE IS MRS. MABEL WILLEBRANDT, ASST. ATTY.-GEN. FOR BOOZE PROSECUTION

EIGHTY-FOUR ARRESTS IN SAVANNAH YESTERDAY ENDED RING'S ACTIVITIES

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 26.—A woman, seated at her desk in Washington, has brought to justice the biggest bootlegging ring in the United States after two years of relentless effort.

She is Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general in charge of prohibition prosecution. The ring was shattered by 84 arrests made in Savannah yesterday.

Operations of the group under arrest were said today at the Department of Justice to be the most highly organized and far-reaching of any known.

Fleets of vessels were operated between the Bahamas and the Georgia coast, convoys being provided to distribute liquor inland, while booze known to have passed through the hands of the ring has been traced as far as St. Louis and Cleveland, where it was sold. A special intelligence service maintained by the ring to protect its operations hampered Mrs. Willebrandt, forcing her on two occasions to substitute an entirely new force of operatives for agents who had been recognized.

Two years ago the attention of Mrs. Willebrandt, a woman of great personal charm, was drawn to the activities of the ring. She ordered dry agents put on the track of leaders, but they proved unsuccessful. She next ordered department of justice agents to take up the chase.

Mrs. Willebrandt also put tax investigators on the case, with the result that a number of members of the ring were indicted for violation of tax laws, involving millions of dollars of dodged income tax.

Yet she was not satisfied. The importation of liquor was not checked. More agents were put on the case with orders to range the entire country if necessary. Almost insurmountable difficulties were encountered before the ring was rounded up.

WILL HOLD DE VALERA PRISONER SOME TIME

(By United Press)
Dublin, Aug. 16.—Eamonn De Valera, Irish Republican leader arrested in Ennis yesterday, will be held "until such time as he can be released without injury to the public safety."

The Free State government appeared confident that its coup in arresting the Republican chieftain would clear the internal situation and would not damage the prospects of the government in the coming elections.

It was generally believed today that De Valera would be detained until after the elections.

LEADS OFF WITH A 3 COLUMN HEAD, FINE PUBLICITY

GIVES PARK SYSTEM OF BRAINERD SPECIAL MENTION AND HONOR

CO-OPERATIVE SPIRIT OF BUSINESS MEN OF BRAINERD IS PRAISED

One of the excellent writeups of the recent editorial convention in Brainerd and Breezy Point is accorded in a recent issue of the Milaca Tribune, its editor and publisher, George J. Van Rhee, giving his description a three column heading, "Editors and Families Enjoy Delightful Outing at Brainerd and Breezy Point." The Milaca Tribune is an eight page weekly, all home print, and is well edited and well printed. In addition to his news story, Editor Van Rhee also had editorial comment.

In the editorial he praised the spirit of enterprise evident in Brainerd and that section of the country. "Brainerd people are working together to better conditions and there is a civic pride and push that is highly commendable. The business people are working together in many projects for the advancement of the city and the great strides Brainerd is making was truly a revelation to most of the editors of the state."

Brother Van Rhee also publishes the resolutions adopted at the convention.

In his news story he states: The newspaper men and their families who failed to attend the delightful outing of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association at Brainerd the latter half of last week certainly missed the event of their lives. It was featured by a genial hospitality that made everyone feel truly comfortable. This locality is situated in one of the most beautiful sections of wonderful Ten Thousand Lakes region of Minnesota, and a sidetrip to Breezy Point where the southern hospitality of Capt. and Mrs. Fawcett was enjoyed, was nothing short of a revelation. The progress that Brainerd is making in many ways, especially along the line of providing serviceable parks the humming industries, and last but not least, the co-operative spirit of business men, are some of the indelible impressions made upon those who attended this recreational and inspirational meeting.

Duties in getting out their newspapers prevented most of the editors from attending the informal smoker at the Civic and Commerce association rooms Wednesday evening. However, many more arrived in time for the auto ride to Echo Stock Farm Thursday morning. Here the modern dairy farms and high grade Holstein cattle were inspected. Cleanliness is a motto at this farm and everything showed it. The milking machine was demonstrated and worked to perfection with these fine cows. The County Agent explained some of the good points of these splendid milk cows. Later he gave a soil demonstration, showing how different kinds of soil could be treated to great advantage.

The necessity for diversified farming and crop rotation were emphasized. The County Highway Engineer explained briefly how roads were being improved, and the use of marl on sand roads. The farm corporation served a complimentary luncheon of sandwiches and fine buttermilk.

A roundabout road was taken from the Stock Farm to Brainerd, visiting a poultry farm and having a good chance to see some of the fine fields of corn and potatoes that are grown in that vicinity.

The city water tower was inspected during the afternoon. It is a circular concrete structure 100 feet

MEXICAN RECOGNITION IS CONSIDERED CERTAIN IN MEXICAN CAPITAL

Mexico City, Aug. 16.—So confident is Mexico that the recommendations of the conference just ended here call for recognition of the Obregon government by the United States that they are considering a petition to President Coolidge asking that Charles B. Warren, American commissioner, who played a leading part in the negotiations, be appointed ambassador to Mexico City.

Warren is extremely popular here, both with officials and civilians. He knows Mexican law as do few Mexicans, and his part in the discussions just ended are described here as generous and unselfish.

HUBBARD, O., CITY PARK NAMED FOR DEAD PRESIDENT

Youngstown, O., Aug. 16.—With closing ceremonies which partook much of the character of a solemn memorial, Harding Park, a gift of Jack Culver, Youngstown business man, to the village of Hubbard, O., was dedicated this afternoon.

This is the first prominent memorial to be named for the late president since his death. More than 20,000 people attended, and a parade of school children, civic societies and Kiwanis clubs from a radius of 25 miles around opened the ceremonies of the day.

"This park is well dedicated to the name of President Harding," said acting attorney-general A. T. Seymour of Washington, leading speaker, "because of his deep and abiding belief in the necessity of recreation."

high, and those who were brave enough went up the promenade around the outside. A good view of the city and numerous surrounding lakes was secured here through field glasses. The party then went to the city water works, a modern plant, where pure water is pumped for the city. Inspection of the new $300,000 court house followed, and the people of Crow Wing county can take a just pride in this fine structure. The party motored to Lun park on the outskirts of the city. This is a recreational park where bathing and water sports are enjoyed, and there is a large pavilion for dancing. The Buxton (N. D.) high school band was camped in the park and gave a concert. This excellent musical organization is under the direction of Arthur R. Thompson, superintendent of schools, and travel in their own motor cars. Many of the editors and members of their families enjoyed the water sports and also the dancing in the evening.

Friday was the big day of the meeting. The forenoon was featured by a visit to the Northern Pacific shops and the afternoon and evening by the trip and entertainment at Breezy Point, the summer resort which is being developed by Capt. Wm. H. Fawcett, former Minneapolis newspaper man and now magazine publisher at Robbinsdale. The different workings of the shops were shown and few realized their magnitude until they walked through them and saw the men doing the various kinds of work.

Breezy Point is situated on Big Pelican lake, a distance of 20 miles from Brainerd. This comfortable haven on a clear water lake with sandy beach has been developed at a cost of $200,000, having about fifty new cottages, and Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett extended all the accommodations possible to the visitors. The airplane was out of commission, but seaplane, launch and horseback rides as well as bathing were enjoyed. A large circuit picture of the group was taken soon after our arrival by our former photographer, O. L. Palmquist. Orange punch was served to the visitors at the Fawcett cottage and this had a great attraction for the editors.

MOB OF CITIZENS ATTACK KLANSMEN

50 ARE INJURED

IN SPECTACULAR STREET FIGHT AT STEUBENVILLE, OHIO, LAST NIGHT

POLICE RESCUE KLANSMEN AND ESCORT THEM ACROSS RIVER

(By United Press)

Steubenville, Ohio, Aug. 16.—One man is near death and 50 are injured as the result of a spectacular battle on the streets of Steubenville last night between 3,000 citizens and 100 members of the Ku Klux Klan. The fight is said to have been an outgrowth of Tuesday's city primary election, in which four Klan candidates were successful.

The mob of citizens attacked the Klansmen as they came out of their meeting hall shortly before midnight.

Darwin L. Gibson, said to have been watching the melee, was shot, and is not expected to live.

The Klansmen caused a stir when they drove into town from Wierdon, W. Va. They were in a caravan of 25 automobiles and carried illuminated crosses.

The townspeople went to the Klan meeting place, and members of the crowd began heckling Klansmen as they came out. Several members of the crowd were said to have been armed with firearms, but most of them carried stones and clubs.

Police succeeded in getting the Klansmen from the hall and escorting them across the river into West Virginia. A few members who were injured were forced to stay behind because of their injuries. Police said some of the men were armed.

20c A GALLON IS A FAIR GAS PRICE IN SOUTH DAKOTA

(By United Press)
Pierre, S. D., Aug. 16.—Twenty cents a gallon is a fair price for gasoline in South Dakota, Governor W. H. McMaster decided.

After a conference with independent dealers, the governor agreed that a general cut of 6.6 cents a gallon in South Dakota was sufficient. This gives the public fuel at a fair price, and dealers can make a fair profit, it was said.

Until the governor began selling state-handled gasoline at 16 cents a gallon, the general price in South Dakota was 26 cents or more, so that a reduction of 6.6 cents a gallon would bring the price down to around 20 cents.

Independents established that price today meeting the cut of Standard Oil of Indiana. The governor also stated that should the state resume the sale of gas at the Mitchell supply depot the 20 cent price would prevail there. The 20 cent price includes a 2 cent road tax.

BY CONFERENCE OF MINERS-OPERATORS WITH COMMISSION

COMPLETE ABANDONMENT OF "CHECK-OFF" SYSTEM BY BOTH SIDES PROPOSED

MATTER WILL BE THRESHED OUT AT CONFERENCE TODAY. SUCCESS HOPED FOR

New York, Aug. 16.—A demand by anthracite miners for an increase in wages of $2 a day, new problems raised by the operators in a morning conference with the United States Coal commission, and a general air of dissatisfaction among the union officials over the unexpected and informal agreement on mutual abandonment of the "check off" made it evident this afternoon that there was still much to be accomplished before the specter of a hard coal strike this fall can be said to be definitely abolished.

New York, Aug. 16.—Anthracite miners and operators go into conference with the United States Coal Commission today to thresh out a compromise which will avoid a strike scheduled for two weeks from Saturday.

Miners will give their answer to the sudden decision of the operators for complete abandonment of the "check off" by both sides.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in a supplementary proposal, pointed out that the operators had practiced the check off on the miners' salaries for seventy years for rents, grocery bills, etc., suggesting that it was unfair for them to continue the practice unless they permitted the unions to check off for union dues.

Operators immediately answered this proposal with an agreement that they would cease their practice.

Union officials had considered it inconceivable that the operators would ever abandon their check-off. The unions wanted the check off written into the contract so that it would be official and legally recorded that the operators recognized the union and sanctioned its right to collect due from employees.

The union, however, based its plea for the check-off on the fact that the operators own stores where miners buy, taking the cost of such things out of salaries.

This practice has been in force for 70 years, largely to facilitate matters for both sides. Observers believe that abandonment of the practice will force operators to install new arrangements for the purchase of supplies, and that it would result in charging miners higher prices for their products.

President Lewis did not indicate that he was willing to abandon the demand for the check-off in the original list submitted to the coal commission. The original demands were for recognition of the check off, an eight-hour day, wage increases and other matters to be left to joint negotiation. A proposal for abandonment was contained in a supplemental statement which pointed to the check-off "as a minor business arrangement which the anthracite operators now enjoy."

New York, Aug. 16.—The conference between miners, coal operators and the government coal commission reached a deadlock this afternoon when John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, announced the tentative agreement promised on the check-off system could not be followed out.

The business people are working together in many projects for the advancement of the city and the great strides Brainerd is making was truly a revelation to most of the editors of the state."

Brother Van Rhee also publishes the resolutions adopted at the convention.

In his news story he states: The newspaper men and their families who failed to attend the delightful outing of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association at Brainerd the latter half of last week certainly missed the event of their lives. It was featured by a genial hospitality that made everyone feel truly comfortable. This locality is situated in one of the most beautiful sections of wonderful Ten Thousand Lakes region of Minnesota, and a sidetrack to Breezy Point where the southern hospitality of Capt. and Mrs. Fawcett was enjoyed, was nothing short of a revelation. The progress that Brainerd is making in many ways, especially along the line of providing serviceable parks the humming industries, and last but not least, the co-operative spirit of her business men, are some of the indelible impressions made upon those who attended this recreational and inspirational meeting.

Duties in getting out their newspapers prevented most of the editors from attending the informal smoker at the Civic and Commerce association rooms Wednesday evening. However, many more arrived in time for the auto ride to Echo Stock Farm Thursday morning. Here the modern dairy barns and high grade Holstein cattle were inspected. Cleanliness is a motto at this farm and everything showed it. The milking machine was demonstrated and worked to perfection with these fine cows. The County Agent explained some of the good points of these splendid milk cows. Later he gave a soil demonstration, showing how different kinds of soil could be treated to great advantage.

The necessity for diversified farming and crop rotation were emphasized. The County Highway Engineer explained briefly how roads were being improved, and the use of marl on sand roads. The farm corporation served a complimentary luncheon of sandwiches and fine buttermilk.

A roundabout road was taken from the Stock Farm to Brainerd, visiting a poultry farm and having a good chance to see some of the fine fields of corn and potatoes that are grown in that vicinity.

The city water tower was inspected during the afternoon. It is a circular concrete structure 100 feet

MEXICAN RECOGNITION IS CONSIDERED CERTAIN IN MEXICAN CAPITAL

Mexico City, Aug. 16.—So confident is Mexico that the recommendations of the conference just ended here call for recognition of the Oregon government by the United States that they are considering a petition to President Coolidge asking that Charles B. Warren, American commissioner, who played a leading part in the negotiations, be appointed ambassador to Mexico City.

Warren is extremely popular here, both with officials and civilians. He knows Mexican law as do few Mexicans, and his part in the discussions just ended are described here as generous and unselfish.

HUBBARD, O., CITY PARK NAMED FOR DEAD PRESIDENT

Youngstown, O., Aug. 16.—With closing ceremonies which partook much of the character of a solemn memorial, Harding Park, a gift of Jack Culver, Youngstown business man, to the village of Hubbard, O., was dedicated this afternoon.

This is the first prominent memorial to be named for the late president since his death. More than 20,000 people attended, and a parade of school children, civic societies and Kiwanis clubs from a radius of 25 miles around opened the ceremonies of the day.

"This park is well dedicated to the name of President Harding," said acting attorney-general A. T. Seymour of Washington, leading speaker, "because of his deep and abiding belief in the necessity of recreation."

high, and those who were brave enough went up the promenade around the outside. A good view of the city and numerous surrounding lakes was secured here through field glasses. The party then went to the city water works, a modern plant, where pure water is pumped for the city. Inspection of the new $300,000 court house followed, and the people of Crow Wing county can take a just pride in this fine structure. The party motored to Luce park on the outskirts of the city. This is a recreational park where bathing and water sports are enjoyed, and there is a large pavilion for dancing. The Buxton (N. D.) high school band was camped in the park and gave a concert. This excellent musical organization is under the direction of Arthur R. Thompson, superintendent of schools, and travel in their own motor cars. Many of the editors and members of their families enjoyed the water sports and also the dancing in the evening.

Friday was the big day of the meeting. The forenoon was featured by a visit to the Northern Pacific shops and the afternoon and evening by the trip and entertainment at Breezy Point, the summer resort which is being developed by Capt. Wm. H. Fawcett, former Minneapolis newspaper man and now magazine publisher at Robbinsdale. The different workings of the shops were shown and few realized their magnitude until they walked through them and saw the men doing the various kinds of work.

Breezy Point is situated on Big Pelican lake, a distance of 20 miles from Brainerd. This comfortable haven on a clear water lake with sandy beach has been developed at a cost of $200,000, having about fifty new cottages, and Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett extended all the accommodations possible to the visitors. The airplane was out of commission, but seaplane, launch and horseback rides as well as bathing were enjoyed. A large circuit picture of the group was taken soon after our arrival by our former photographer, O. L. Palmquist. Orange punch was served to the visitors at the Fawcett cottage and this had a great attraction for the editors.

A fine beefsteak dinner was tendered the editors by Capt. Fawcett.

MOB OF CITIZENS ATTACK KLANSMEN 50 ARE INJURED

IN SPECTACULAR STREET FIGHT AT STEUBENVILLE, OHIO, LAST NIGHT

POLICE RESCUE KLANSMEN AND ESCORT THEM ACROSS RIVER

(By United Press)
Steubenville, Ohio, Aug. 16.—One man is near death and 50 are injured as the result of a spectacular battle on the streets of Steubenville last night between 3,000 citizens and 100 members of the Ku Klux Klan.

The fight is said to have been an outgrowth of Tuesday's city primary election, in which four Klan candidates were successful.

The mob of citizens attacked the Klansmen as they came out of their meeting hall shortly before midnight. Darwin L. Gibson, said to have been watching the melee, was shot, and is not expected to live.

The Klansmen caused a stir when they drove into town from Wierton, W. Va. They were in a caravan of 25 automobiles and carried illuminated crosses.

The townspeople went to the Klan meeting place, and members of the crowd began heckling Klansmen as they came out. Several members of the crowd were said to have been armed with firearms, but most of them carried stones and clubs.

Police succeeded in getting the Klansmen from the hall and escorting them across the river into West Virginia. A few members who were injured were forced to stay behind because of their injuries. Police said some of the men were armed.

20c A GALLON IS A FAIR GAS PRICE IN SOUTH DAKOTA

(By United Press)
Pierre, S. D., Aug. 16.—Twenty cents a gallon is a fair price for gasoline in South Dakota, Governor W. H. McMaster decided.

After a conference with independent dealers, the governor agreed that a general cut of 6.6 cents a gallon in South Dakota was sufficient. This gives the public fuel at a fair price, and dealers can make a fair profit, it was said.

Until the governor began selling state-handled gasoline at 16 cents a gallon, the general price in South Dakota was 26 cents or more, so that a reduction of 6.6 cents a gallon would bring the price down to around 20 cents.

Independents established that price today meeting the cut of Standard Oil of Indiana. The governor also stated that should the state resume the sale of gas at the Mitchell supply depot the 20 cent price would prevail there. The 20 cent price includes a 2 cent road tax.

96 BODIES ARE REMOVED FROM KEMMERER MINE

(By United Press)
Kemmerer, Aug. 16.—Ninety-six bodies have been recovered from the Kemmerer Coal company mine No. 1 when rescue work was resumed today. Authorities believed three more bodies were in the mine. Arrangements were made for the burial of the dead together. The disaster was caused by an explosion Tuesday.

MURDERED FOR $16; SKULL CRUSHED BY AXE

Washburn, N. D., Aug. 16.—Murdered for $16, the mutilated body of Paul Sundbakken, 22, was found beside a bunk car in the railroad yards at Ruso.

An axe with which his skull was crushed was found 200 feet away.

The Value of A Human Life

Various estimates have been placed on human lives. In reality there are no two human lives that have the same value. Values are determined by usefulness. The usefulness of any life is determined by the soundness and suppleness of the spine of that person. If you would increase the value of your life take chiropractic adjustments. Restore the spine to its normal alignment and your value to society will be greatly increased. Consul-

MINERS DEMAND CHECK OFF

A CONTEMPORARY expresses the belief that the public will be opposed to the miners if they strike because the operators in the anthracite fields refuse to agree to their demand that union dues be taken out of the wages of union miners at the pay office before they receive their pay envelopes.

If writers emphasize the objections of the operators to this demand, and use every possible argument to bolster up the position assumed by the operators, it is quite possible that the public, which does not thoroughly understand the nature of the demand, will be opposed to the miners if they go on strike to enforce their will. On the other hand, if the public is given the facts as they are and not as colored by writers who are not in sympathy with labor's demands, there is every reason to believe that the public will be neutral in such a strike because the public concludes that the matter is not of sufficient importance to constitute an adequate reason for a shut down of the mines. The public will conclude that if either side yields that side will be doing no more than what might be expected when the alternative is a strike with a shortage of a necessary commodity.

This contemporary, who believes that the public will be against the miners, gives two reasons why the request of the miners should not be granted, and neither of the reasons is of any importance. He says that union dues are not kept off in other industries, with the exception of the bituminous coal mines, and that because it is not done it should not be done. The validity of such an argument is exploded by every change that is made in the industrial order. The fact that a thing has not been done in the past is no reason why it should not be done in the future, and the assertion that it has led to trouble in the case of the bituminous miners proves nothing, for one would go a long way to find more trouble in the relations of workers and operators than one finds in the anthracite coal fields where this demand of the miners has not been met. And the inference that this demand is unusual is disproved by the fact that in England it was conceded many years ago and the disputes of the mine operators and the miners in England have been marked by very few cases in which a cessation of work resulted.

The second reason given in opposition to the miners' demands is that if the point is conceded it will mark an interference of the operators in matters outside of their proper sphere. But this is not such a serious matter, for the interference is invited by those who will be subject to the interference. The fact is that operators do interfere with their workers. Paternalism in industry is an interference with labor which is often resented by labor, but such interference is actuated by the desire that the workers may be made better producers. Such interference is motivated by selfish interests to a greater or less extent. But in the case at issue the miners ask that union dues be kept out of wages at the pay office, and if this is done the unions will be strengthened and the operators do not intend to do anything that will add strength to miners' unions.

Any secretary of a fraternal organization can understand the reason for the demand. These know that members often drop out because they have neglected to pay their dues. They did not intend to forfeit membership; they were neglectful and when their dues had, through neglect, become a burden they just dropped their membership in the order. This is the reason for the demanded check off. It preserves the membership of the union at full strength because the miners do not feel that their dues are a burden when they are kept out of their pay.

In a word, the miners want this check off because it will strengthen the unions and the operators don't want it because it will strengthen the unions. It would seem, therefore, that the public will decide that in such a case the matter is not of sufficient importance to cause inconvenience to the nation at large, and that it is the duty of the public to stand neutral in a case of this kind. There is no excuse for the public using its influence to pull the economic chestnuts of the operators out of the fire, and we believe that the public is convinced that the miners in the anthracite fields need strong unions to deal with the operators whose history is not any too much filled with evidences of interest in the "dear public" whose sentiment it would now organize and capitalize to its own advantage.

DEGRADING THE STARS AND STRIPES

THOSE foolish persons who believe that those who have spoken evil words of America and its leaders will be saved from their evil ways when they have been compelled to kiss the flag are guilty of degrading the flag when they see it treated in such a way.

The country has just seen another example of this foolish and explosive patriotism. Certain radicals in Toledo said things about the late President Harding that angered those who listened. The auditors proceeded to threaten to lynch the radicals, and when the stage was set they relented and compelled their prisoners to kiss the flag. In doing this they degraded the flag, for kissing the flag, under a noose that threatens the life of the men who stand under it, means nothing more than that those who kiss it would rather do this than be strung up.

There is another reason why such men degrade the flag. They prove that they are no more true to the things for which that flag stands than those whom they threaten. If the American flag stands for any one thing it stands for government by law and not by mobs, and when the guilty kiss it they know full well that they are no more guilty of wrong than those who make them submit and kiss it. This kind of thing is not American. Suppressing radicalism by using the tactics of the lawless mob won't do much for America.

It is a matter of question whether formal salutes of the flag really do much to make patriotic Americans. Observing certain forms at the behest of the majority or of some authority does not express life, and too much flag waving like too much formality is likely to kill the spirit. A traitor does not cease to be a traitor because he is compelled to salute or kiss the flag. His kiss may be like the kiss of Judas, and a man who is compelled to kiss the flag because of something he has said about a system of government may transfer his hatred of the system to the flag and the country it represent. For the conservative the flag represents the America that is, while for the radical, who may love it just as devoutly, it represents the America that he thinks should be. Men don't love the flag through compulsion but by choice, and loyalty cannot be compelled by the threat of a noose. Kissing the flag does not change a traitor but it degrades the flag.

MONROE DOCTRINE THREATENED

RECENT proposals of leaders of the nations who have accepted the covenant of the League of Nations are likely to place the United States in a difficult position. The Monroe doctrine has been stressed in the foreign policy of this country and the world has been given to understand that the American continent will not brook interference from the other half of the world.

If the new treaty that is receiving consideration by the nations that are a party to the covenant of the League of Nations is accepted by these nations and adopted by the council and assembly of the League of Nations in September the Monroe doctrine will not amount to anything in the new international relations.

Such a development would prove how contrary are the attitudes of the foreign secretaries of the nations of Europe and the secretary of state of the United States. This country has sought to avoid interfering in Europe, while this proposal would determine that in case of any trouble between countries on the American continent the nations of Europe would step in to champion the cause of the nation attacked and punish the aggressor.

To avoid the breakdown of the Monroe doctrine, if this proposal is accepted by the many nations that are organized in the League of Nations, there would seem to be but two possible methods that might be employed by the United States. This country may be able to influence the South American countries to such an extent that they will refuse to agree to the proposal, and in case of pressure from Europe withdraw from the League of Nations; or the United States, having failed to exert such an influence successfully, may attempt to win such reservations in the constitution of the League of Nations as will allow her to come in without entangling herself in such a way that her military forces could be called for in case of conflicts in Europe.

The proposal raises a problem for our state department. The Monroe doctrine is important to this country and the real question is whether the South American countries consider it important to them. They will have a lot to do with deciding this issue.

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION AIDS POOR

THE committee on Legal Aid work of the American Bar association stresses the problem of the poor and the courts in the annual report of the association.

The report points out that remarkable progress has been made during the last twelve months in furnishing legal services to the poor who would not be able to attend to their legal interests were it not for the good work of the association. America has not advanced as far as England in the provision of legal services for those who are unable to pay for them, but the committee on Legal Aid work is studying methods and procedure so that a draft may be presented to the State Bar associations and modified to meet the needs of each state.

The report says, "We believe it is entirely possible that within our lifetimes our judicial machinery can be so adapted and improved that poverty will cease to hinder and embarrass the poor when they seek the equal protection of the laws. Poverty we can not eliminate. But the administration of justice can be so geared to the needs of our modern industrial urban society that within its sacred field the effect of poverty will be at a minimum."

For a number of years Legal Aid societies have been offering their services to the poor of our larger cities and the good work is spreading every year. This is as it should be, and the members of the American Bar association deserve credit for their efforts to extend it. So long as it can be claimed that there is a marked inequality of opportunity before the law the people will not appreciate to the full the value of government by law. It is sometimes charged that before the law the rich and the poor are on an unequal footing. It is hard to believe that this is so and yet certain facts would seem to show that there is a little truth in the statement. Not so much is this true of what happens in the court room, but those who are sentenced do not always serve out their sentences and many a man has been freed because he could pay for the services of a skilled criminal lawyer.

However, the Legal Aid society is not concerned with this problem but with that of providing legal aid for those who are too poor to have legal services at all without the help of the societies, and the work is one that will help to increase respect for the courts and for the legal profession.

CRIMINAL INFLUENCE

THE attempted jail break which led to the discovery that criminals with a record had been sent to the St. Cloud reformatory by mistake may lead to a more careful examination of the records of criminals who are committed to an institution that exists to deal with "first offenders."

The value of a penal institution, designed to restore younger criminals who have broken the law to society as good citizens, lies in keeping such offenders away from influences whose criminal character very often led to the commission of the first offense. Accordingly, when men who have a criminal record are by mistake thrown into such institutions to mingle with younger criminals their influence upon their younger associates is bound to be corrupting.

The St. Cloud reformatory has a fine record built up by a consistent effort to send those who are committed to it back to society as good citizens. An evil environment, lack of parental restraint, an absence of discipline and a foolish indifference to consequences are often responsible for the mistake that lands a "first offender" in the reformatory. If the institution is able to supply the things that were deficient in his life outside, while shielding him from the corrupting influences of criminal associates, or depraved characters who may escape indictment by various means, there is a possibility of restoring the youth to good citizenship.

Just because reformatories house those who have broken the law they must at all times contain some whose nature has a warp and whose influence upon the youth who is easily led is detrimental. This cannot be helped, but the records of those convicted should be carefully examined so that men with criminal records will not be admitted to institutions where their presence may corrupt those who by the discipline of reformatory life may be restored to law-abiding manhood.

Mistakes of this kind may be costly and may result in destroying the real value of the reformatory; for the name reformatory suggests the purpose of the institution as the name penitentiary suggests something different.

CALVIN COOLIDGE may be elected president of the United States in 1924. He will be made or unmade by circumstances. He faces the problem of doing the right thing at the right time, and what is right in fact is sometimes wrong politically.

ONE's attitude to life is the important thing. The wash tub can be a pleasure or a tragedy. A laundress with a legacy of $100,000 is content to stay by the tub.

Are You the Man Who "Never Reads Advertisements?"

Some men, who are neither blind nor illiterate, claim sincerely that they "never read advertisements."

Yet, if you could investigate, in each case you would find that the man who "never reads advertisements" used an advertised tooth paste or shaving cream or soap. If he owns an automobile it will be an advertised car. If you ask his opinion of any automobile he will reply in words that might have been lifted bodily from an advertisement of that automobile.

Advertising has formed his opinions to a great degree. He may have received his information through others who obtained their knowledge from advertising. But it is a fact that no man can escape the effect of advertising even if he does say he "never reads advertisements."

Not one of us ever reasoned out entirely from his own mind that the earth is round. If we had not read it or heard it we would never have known it.

In these days of good, truthful, helpful advertising to say, "I never read advertisements" is merely your way of saying "I don't read all advertisements."

This country has sought to avoid interfering in Europe, while this proposal would determine that in case of any trouble between countries on the American continent the nations of Europe would step in to champion the cause of the nation attacked and punish the aggressor.

To avoid the breakdown of the Monroe doctrine, if this proposal is accepted by the many nations that are organized in the League of Nations, there would seem to be but two possible methods that might be employed by the United States. This country may be able to influence the South American countries to such an extent that they will refuse to agree to the proposal, and in case of pressure from Europe withdraw from the League of Nations; or the United States, having failed to exert such an influence successfully, may attempt to win such reservations in the constitution of the League of Nations as will allow her to come in without entangling herself in such a way that her military forces could be called for in case of conflicts in Europe.

The proposal raises a problem for our state department. The Monroe doctrine is important to this country and the real question is whether the South American countries consider it important to them. They will have a lot to do with deciding this issue.

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION AIDS POOR

THE committee on Legal Aid work of the American Bar association stresses the problem of the poor and the courts in the annual report of the association.

The report points out that remarkable progress has been made during the last twelve months in furnishing legal services to the poor who would not be able to attend to their legal interests were it not for the good work of the association. America has not advanced as far as England in the provision of legal services for those who are unable to pay for them, but the committee on Legal Aid work is studying methods and procedure so that a draft may be presented to the State Bar associations and modified to meet the needs of each state.

The report says, "We believe it is entirely possible that within our lifetimes our judicial machinery can be so adapted and improved that poverty will cease to hinder and embarrass the poor when they seek the equal protection of the laws. Poverty we can not eliminate. But the administration of justice can be so geared to the needs of our modern industrial urban society that within its sacred field the effect of poverty will be at a minimum."

For a number of years Legal Aid societies have been offering their services to the poor of our larger cities and the good work is spreading every year. This is as it should be, and the members of the American Bar association deserve credit for their efforts to extend it. So long as it can be claimed that there is a marked inequality of opportunity before the law the people will not appreciate to the full the value of government by law. It is sometimes charged that before the law the rich and the poor are on an unequal footing. It is hard to believe that this is so and yet certain facts would seem to show that there is a little truth in the statement. Not so much is this true of what happens in the court room, but those who are sentenced do not always serve out their sentences and many a man has been freed because he could pay for the services of a skilled criminal lawyer.

However, the Legal Aid society is not concerned with this problem but with that of providing legal aid for those who are too poor to have legal services at all without the help of the societies, and the work is one that will help to increase respect for the courts and for the legal profession.

CRIMINAL INFLUENCE

THE attempted jail break which led to the discovery that criminals with a record had been sent to the St. Cloud reformatory by mistake may lead to a more careful examination of the records of criminals who are committed to an institution that exists to deal with "first offenders."

The value of a penal institution, designed to restore younger criminals who have broken the law to society as good citizens, lies in keeping such offenders away from influences whose criminal character very often led to the commission of the first offense. Accordingly, when men who have a criminal record are by mistake thrown into such institutions to mingle with younger criminals their influence upon their younger associates is bound to be corrupting.

The St. Cloud reformatory has a fine record built up by a consistent effort to send those who are committed to it back to society as good citizens. An evil environment, lack of parental restraint, an absence of discipline and a foolish indifference to consequences are often responsible for the mistake that lands a "first offender" in the reformatory. If the institution is able to supply the things that were deficient in his life outside, while shielding him from the corrupting influences of criminal associates, or depraved characters who may escape indictment by various means, there is a possibility of restoring the youth to good citizenship.

Just because reformatories house those who have broken the law they must at all times contain some whose nature has a warp and whose influence upon the youth who is easily led is detrimental. This cannot be helped, but the records of those convicted should be carefully examined so that men with criminal records will not be admitted to institutions where their presence may corrupt those who by the discipline of reformatory life may be restored to law-abiding manhood.

Mistakes of this kind may be costly and may result in destroying the real value of the reformatory; for the name reformatory suggests the purpose of the institution as the name penitentiary suggests something different.

Are You the Man Who "Never Reads Advertisements?"

Some men, who are neither blind nor illiterate, claim sincerely that they "never read advertisements."

Yet, if you could investigate, in each case you would find that the man who "never reads advertisements" used an advertised tooth paste or shaving cream or soap. If he owns an automobile it will be an advertised car. If you ask his opinion of any automobile he will reply in words that might have been lifted bodily from an advertisement of that automobile.

Advertising has formed his opinions to a great degree. He may have received his information through others who obtained their knowledge from advertising. But it is a fact that no man can escape the effect of advertising even if he does say he "never reads advertisements."

Not one of us ever reasoned out entirely from his own mind that the earth is round. If we had not read it or heard it we would never have known it.

In these days of good, truthful, helpful advertising to say, "I never read advertisements" is merely your way of saying "I don't read all advertisements."

MPLS. SHRINERS WILL VISIT CITY

On Sunday August 26th, Arriving in the City at Nine O'clock and Remain All Day

WILL PUT ON FINE PROGRAM

At Two Sacred Concerts in Gregory Park to Which All Residents Are Invited

Brainerd is to be visited by one hundred and fifty Shriners on Sunday, August 26th, when members of Zuhrah Temple, Minneapolis, with their big band and drum corps, drill corps and chanters stop here on their two-weeks tour of the northern section of the state.

As planned now, the special train will arrive in the city about nine o'clock Sunday morning, and will leave at six o'clock in the evening. This is not a case of Brainerd being host to these distinguished visitors. On the contrary the Shriners come fully prepared to entertain the local citizens, and they have an entertainment that is worth going miles to hear.

Because the itinerary of the tour brings the train to Brainerd on Sunday, the program here will be of a sacred nature. There will be two sacred concerts given, one in the morning, the other in the afternoon, both at Gregory park, as plans now stand. The morning program will be arranged so that it will not interfere with church services.

The band and drum corps consists of seventy-five members, about half of that number being associated with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. Music lovers are promised a rare treat in this organization, which is very popular in Minneapolis.

There are thirty chanters, whose singing in conjunction with the band was one of the features of the Shrine convention in Washington this spring. The Arab Patrol, or drill corps, has thirty-five members, and present a fine appearance in their bright, oriental uniforms, executing particularly intricate drills.

The committee in charge of Sunday's program want it understood that this is not alone for Shriners. Everyone is especially invited to hear the concerts. Invitations are being sent out to Blue lodges, Chapters and Commanderies in the surrounding territory, and it is expected that many outside visitors will be in attendance, making it a day long to be remembered in this section.

There are more than fifty Shriners living in Brainerd, all of whom will have some part in the arrangements of receiving the visitors. It is planned to give the Zuhrah travelers a complimentary luncheon at noon on Sunday, the Brainerd Nobles being hosts to their brothers.

For fear that some Shriners living in the city may not be known to the committee, each member of that fraternity is requested to get in touch with either G. W. Chadbourne or Harry Carlson as soon as possible, so that no one will be omitted in planning the festivities.

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 16.—The state's investigation into Tulsa floggings got into full swing today while the city entered upon its third day of martial law. Short was expected to arrive during the day to assume charge of all legal steps in the campaign instituted by Governor J. C. Walton to suppress mob violence in Tulsa and Tulsa county.

DANIEL MARKEN IS ADJUDGED INSANE

North Side Resident Accused of Accosting and Molesting Girls Held Irresponsible

TAKEN TO FERGUS FALLS TODAY

It is Believed His Apprehension Will End the Unfortunate Incidents Lately Occurring

Daniel Marken, charged with molesting and accosting young girls and older women, was adjudged insane in probate court Wednesday afternoon. This brings to a close a case which has been watched with a great deal of interest by everyone.

D. H. Fullerton, city attorney, makes the following review of this case for the benefit of all who have wish to know its outcome:

Mr. Marken was arrested on Saturday evening on South Sixth street on complaint of Irene Betzold, who with other girls alleged that they had been accosted and who definitely identified him as the culprit.

On Monday morning Mr. Marken was arraigned in municipal court on a charge of assault, and at that time four ladies identified him as the one who molested them on various occasions.

Because of these and other complaints, it became apparent to Mr. Fullerton that there was probable cause to believe the defendant insane, and the city attorney asked a continuance of the trial until the following day, in order to have a mental examination made by physicians.

This examination showed, in the opinion of the doctors, that the man was mentally incompetent to be charged with a crime, and it was their recommendation that he be sent to an insane hospital.

On Tuesday morning the city attorney filed a petition in probate court, to have a formal mental examination, and this examination took place on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. R. A. Beise and Dr. B. I. De-rauf conducted the tests and found the defendant to be a subject for the insane hospital. Judge J. F. Sanborn made the order to that effect and Mr. Marken will be taken to the state hospital.

On Thursday morning, in municipal court, City Attorney Fullerton moved that the case against the defendant in that court be dismissed on account of the insanity charge, and it was so ordered, by Judge Warner, who had further continued the trial until Friday morning.

The newlyweds are both well and favorably known young people. The groom has for some time held a position with the Ar-en Co. of Minneapolis. FRANK & JAMES FIRM DISSOLVED

Frank Zwack Purchased the Interest of James L. Ferdinandson and Continues Business

WILL HOLD DISSOLUTION SALE

Printers Ink has Never Been Spared in Advertising Camp Equipment and Men's Wear

The partnership of Frank & James Co. was dissolved on Wednesday, August 15th, Frank Zwack will continue the business under the old name and at the same location, 712 Front street.

The firm started their business in Brainerd in March, 1920, first occupying small quarters at 716 Front street. They soon outgrew this location and were compelled to seek more room.

Messrs Zwack and Ferdinandson were buddies in the World War, and when they returned to civilian life, decided to pool their interests in a business venture in Brainerd, which partnership has proved both a pleasant and profitable one. It is only because Mr. Ferdinandson was offered a tempting proposition in Minneapolis that the firm was dissolved.

The Frank & James Company handles a very complete line of army goods, camp equipment and general men's merchandise. Special attention is given to supplying the tourist trade, selling or renting tents, coats, boats, etc.

So thoroughly has the advertising campaign of this firm been conducted that the tourist patronage has become a very important part of the business, and the name of Frank & James is a familiar one to summer visitors from many states.

It is Mr. Zwack's intention to hold a dissolution sale, beginning at once, to make room for a reorganization and restocking of the store, with the probability of adding several new departments.

Printers ink has never been spared in giving publicity to this firm's merchandise, and much of the credit for the success of the business is given to the newspaper advertising. It is Mr. Zwack's intention to continue this publicity policy in the future.

Busy Bee Circle

The Busy Bee Circle of the Methodist Ladies Aid, will meet on Friday afternoon, August 17th, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. G. E. Senn, 710 north Ninth street.

All members of this circle are especially urged to be present. Visitors are welcome.

CALIFORNIA DRIED APRICOTS

Fruit is Now at Pre-war Prices Housewives Show How to Make Delicious Dishes

VALUE OF DRIED FRUIT SHOWN

Actual Food Value of a Pound of Dried Fruit Much Greater Than Same Quantity of Fresh Fruit

By MRS. BELLE DE GRAF (Domestic Science Director, California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, San Jose, Calif.)

The value of dried fruits is becoming more and more apparent. Fresh fruits will not keep indefinitely, and canned goods are bulky; dried fruits have the advantage of protection against decay and are in a more compact and convenient form, at the same time palatable without loss of the valuable mineral salts and food value.

The actual food value of a pound of dried fruit is, of course, much greater than the same quantity of fresh fruit. Now, when economical buying has become such a factor to the careful housekeeper, foods high in nutriment and health-giving mineral salts have a definite place among the staple household supplies. Because of their high sugar content dried fruits rank high as an energy food. This fruit sugar must not be confused with commercial sugar, however; it is a natural sweet, developed by the sun—both in the ripening and the drying process. Dried apricots are especially high in sugar (about 63 per cent). They rank high on the list of carbohydrate foods. This year old Mother Nature has provided a bumper crop of apricots, which places them at a moderate price.

Stewed Apricots and Apricot Pie

When one takes into consideration that pound for pound you are purchasing actual food—no waste whatever—and that added bulk is given when soaked and cooked—apricots are a very inexpensive food. There is practically no preparation—no peeling or slicing—just wash, cover with water and let stand over night. In the morning set over a low fire and bring to the boiling point only—sweeten to taste, remove from the fire—and you have a cooked fruit perfect in shape—a rich golden color. Use them in a pie—either of the two, crust type, or make a deep dish pie—one with a top crust only. If to be eaten hot, serve plain; if cold, raise the crust and spread a layer of sweetened whipped cream over the fruit, then replace the crust and pour a cold custard sauce over the fruit. A pie not soon forgotten is made by baking a pastry shell—then fill with the cooked fruit and when ready to serve cover the top with sweetened whipped cream. Then there is the old-fashioned cobbler, so popular when a hot dessert is desired. And apricot ice, sherbet or mousse: just freeze the cooked fruit for an ice; for the sherbet add the well beaten white of an egg for each quart of water ice after it is half frozen; and for the mousse add a cupful of whipped cream to the cooked fruit and freeze without turning. What would be easier—and nothing could be better. A combination of flavors often gives just the right variety needed. A little grated or crushed pineapple blends wonderfully with dried apricots; add after fruit has been cooked and is thoroughly cold.

Apricot Charlotte Russe

An Apricot Charlotte Russe is dainty, appetizing and very attractive in appearance. Rub the cooked dried apricots through a coarse sieve or fruit press (this is very easy to do with stewed dried apricots.) Allow one cupful to every four persons. Add an equal quantity of whipped cream. Line sherbet cups with lady fingers and then fill with the Charlotte mixture.

Apricot Whip

Apricot Whip or Souffle—a dainty mixture of crushed fruit and the stiffly beaten whites of eggs; a dish for the special occasion or to tempt the appetite of an invalid or child. Easily digested, light and wholesome.

Apricot and Prune Compote

Try the dried apricots for jam when hot breakfast breads replace toast. This will make a very popular accompaniment for hot cakes, waffles, hot biscuits or corn bread. And this jam is so easy to make: just cook the soaked fruit slowly until tender, then measure and add half as much sugar as fruit and simmer until thick and store in sterilized jars. For variety one cup of stewed prunes may be added to each quart of the cooked fruit. If a conserve is desired, add shredded blanched almonds to the dried apricot and prune combination.

These are only some of the exceptional desserts taking only a few minutes to prepare, yet presenting so appetizing a flavor and appearance they are sure to prove popular.

Fruit is essential in a well-balanced diet—variety is quite necessary for the relish and appeal of food, all aids to digestion. These points should be kept in mind when planning meals. Try some of the good things you can make with dried apricots. This flavorful fruit will solve many of your dessert perplexities.

Olson-Claus

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning, Aug. 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Claus, when their daughter Esther became the bride of David Olson, Rev. E. A. Cooke officiating. Only the immediate friends and relatives were present.

The bride wore a beautiful suit of white silk brocade and carried brides roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Irma Claus, who wore a sand color coral canton crepe dress and carried salmon roses. Mr. Arthur Stewart was best man.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with ferns and gladioli, pink being the color scheme.

After the ceremony a delicious dinner was served by Mrs. Francis Wray and Miss Florence Newman.

Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known in Brainerd, the bride being a graduate of the Brainerd high school and the groom an employee of the telephone company.

The happy couple left Wednesday afternoon for Detroit where they will spend their honeymoon. The best wishes of their many friends follow them.

THE greatest achievements throughout the ages have been those discoveries and inventions which have made it possible for men to do the work of the world better, and at the same time gain the leisure needed to develop their own powers.

No single class of achievements has done more to overcome the obstacles which confronted mankind in his climb toward better things than those which are grouped about the discovery of petroleum. From this source he first secured cheap and abundant light, lubricants and power.

The discovery of kerosene gave him a clear, dependable light which made systematic night study possible.

The development of unnumbered lubricants made the operation of the countless machines which serve the world practical.

The refining of gasoline made the internal combustion automotive engine practicable.

In the development of these helps, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a leader.

For years it has maintained, at its refineries, research laboratories and testing stations where men were constantly at work finding new uses for petroleum, and as the discoveries have been proved of practical worth they have been given to the world.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has done more than develop a large number of products and manufacture them in quantities. It has priced them at reasonable figures and has organized a comprehensive system of distribution which makes it possible for any man in the ten Middle Western States served by the Company to get what he wants quickly and easily.

Of these achievements the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is justly proud—particularly so, as the public has paid no premium for the enjoyment of these comforts.

In contradistinction, every additional product that this Company is able to take from petroleum bears its just proportion of the total manufacturing expense and tends to keep down the manufacturing cost and the selling price of all petroleum products.

Thus do the activities of a big organization, founded and operated on the principles of equity, fairness and justice, accrue to the benefits of the public for the common good.

DANIEL MARKEN IS ADJUDGED INSANE

North Side Resident Accused of Ac-costing and Molesting Girls
Held Irresponsible

TAKEN TO FERGUS FALLS TODAY

It is Believed His Apprehension Will End the Unfortunate Incidents
Lately Occurring

Daniel Marken, charged with molesting and accosting young girls and older women, was adjudged insane in probate court Wednesday afternoon. This brings to a close a case which has been watched with a great deal of interest by everyone. D. H. Fullerton, city attorney, makes the following review of this case for the benefit of all who have wish to know its outcome:

Mr. Marken was arrested on Saturday evening on South Sixth street on complaint of Irene Betzold, who with other girls alleged that they had been accosted and who definitely identified him as the culprit.

On Monday morning Mr. Marken was arraigned in municipal court on a charge of assault, and at that time four ladies identified him as the one who molested them on various occasions.

Because of these and other complaints, it became apparent to Mr. Fullerton that there was probable cause to believe the defendant insane, and the city attorney asked a continuance of the trial until the following day, in order to have a mental examination made by physicians.

This examination showed, in the opinion of the doctors, that the man was mentally incompetent to be charged with a crime, and it was their recommendation that he be sent to an insane hospital.

On Tuesday morning the city attorney filed a petition in probate court, to have a formal mental examination, and this examination took place on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. R. A. Beise and Dr. B. I. Derauf conducted the tests and found the defendant to be a subject for the insane hospital. Judge J. T. Sanborn made the order to that effect, and Mr. Marken will be taken to the state hospital.

On Thursday morning, in municipal court, City Attorney Fullerton moved that the case against the defendant in that court be dismissed on account of the insanity charge, and it was so ordered, by Judge Warner, who had further continued the trial until Friday morning.

MENTAL WORK DEMANDS ENERGY AND STRENGTH

You Can't Make a Success When Little Things Tire You
Out

BUILD YOURSELF UP; WIN BACK YOUR PEP

No matter how much brains you have, you can't enjoy the greatest success unless you feel like doing your best—not once in a while, but every day in the week. And you can't do your best when you wake up mornings feeling dull and tired—no appetite, digestion poor, and often constipated. It makes you susceptible to those frequent headaches and many painful symptoms of a torpid liver and over-taxed stomach.

Hanson-Blegen
A very pretty home wedding was consummated Wednesday afternoon August 15th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Blegen of Garrison township, when their daughter, Agnes Emelle was united in marriage to Harold Hanson of Minneapolis. Rev. O. L. Bolstad officiated using the ring service. The groom was attended by Ole Blegen and Miss Olga Monson of Kimberly was bridesmaid. After the ceremony a dainty wedding dinner was served. The newlyweds are both well and favorably known young people. The groom has for some time held a position with the Ar-en Co. of Minneapolis. The high esteem in which they are held was indicated by the number of beautiful gifts with which they were presented. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will spend their honeymoon in California. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Ole Holm and family and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Pederson and family of Brainerd, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hanson of Kimberly, and Rev. and Mrs. Gillis of Rochester.

FRANK & JAMES FIRM DISSOLVED

Frank Zwack Purchased the Interest of James L. Ferdinandson and Continues Business

WILL HOLD DISSOLUTION SALE

Printers Ink has Never Been Spared in Advertising Camp Equipment and Men's Wear

The partnership of Frank & James Co. was dissolved on Wednesday, August 15th, Frank Zwack will continue the business under the old name and at the same location, 712 Front street.

The firm started their business in Brainerd in March, 1920, first occupying small quarters at 716 Front street. They soon outgrew this location and were compelled to seek more room.

Messrs Zwack and Ferdinandson were buddies in the World War, and when they returned to civilian life, decided to pool their interests in a business venture in Brainerd, which partnership has proved both a pleasant and profitable one. It is only because Mr. Ferdinandson was offered a tempting proposition in Minneapolis that the firm was dissolved.

The Frank & James Company handles a very complete line of army goods, camp equipment and general men's merchandise. Special attention is given to supplying the tourist trade, selling or renting tents, coats, boats, etc.

So thoroughly has the advertising campaign of this firm been conducted that the tourist patronage has become a very important part of the business, and the name of Frank & James is a familiar one to summer visitors from many states.

It is Mr. Zwack's intention to hold a dissolution sale, beginning at once, to make room for a reorganization and restocking of the store, with the probability of adding several new departments.

Printers ink has never been spared in giving publicity to this firm's merchandise, and much of the credit for the success of the business is given to the newspaper advertising. It is Mr. Zwack's intention to continue this publicity policy in the future.

VALUE OF DRIED FRUIT SHOWN

Actual Food Value of a Pound of Dried Fruit Much Greater Than
Same Quantity of Fresh Fruit

By MRS. BELLE DE GRAF
(Domestic Science Director, California
Prune and Apricot Growers' Association,
San Jose, Calif.)

The value of dried fruits is becoming more and more apparent. Fresh fruits will not keep indefinitely, and canned goods are bulky; dried fruits have the advantage of protection against decay and are in a more compact and convenient form, at the same time palatable without loss of the valuable mineral salts and food value.

The actual food value of a pound of dried fruit is, of course, much greater than the same quantity of fresh fruit. Now, when economical buying has become such a factor to the careful housekeeper, foods high in nutriment and health-giving mineral salts have a definite place among the staple household supplies. Because of their high sugar content dried fruits rank high as an energy food. This fruit sugar must not be confused with commercial sugar, however; it is a natural sweet, developed by the sun—both in the ripening and the drying process. Dried apricots are especially high in sugar (about 63 per cent). They rank high on the list of carbohydrate foods. This year old Mother Nature has provided a bumper crop of apricots, which places them at a moderate price.

Stewed Apricots and Apricot Pie

When one takes into consideration that pound for pound you are purchasing actual food—no waste whatever—and that added bulk is given when soaked and cooked—apricots are a very inexpensive food. There is practically no preparation—no peeling or slicing—just wash, cover with water and let stand over night. In the morning set over a low fire and bring to the boiling point only—sweeten to taste, remove from the fire—and you have a cooked fruit perfect in shape—a rich golden color. Use them in a pie—either of the two, crust type, or make a deep dish pie—one with a top crust only, if to be eaten hot, serve plain; if cold, raise the crust and spread a layer of sweetened whipped cream over the fruit, then replace the crust and pour a cold custard sauce over the fruit. A pie not soon forgotten is made by baking a pastry shell—then fill with the cooked fruit and when ready to serve cover the top with sweetened whipped cream. Then there is the old-fashioned cobler, so popular when a hot dessert is desired. And apricot ice, sherbet or mousse: just freeze the cooked fruit for an ice; for the sherbet add the well beaten white of an egg for each quart of water; ice after it is half frozen; and for the mousses add a cupful of whipped cream to the cooked fruit and freeze without turning. What would be easier—and nothing could be better. A combination of flavors often gives just the right variety needed. A little grated or crushed pineapple blends wonderfully with dried apricots; add after fruit has been cooked and is thoroughly cold.

Apricot Charlotte Russe

An Apricot Charlotte Russe is dainty, appetizing and very attractive in appearance. Rub the cooked dried apricots through a coarse sieve or fruit press (this is very easy to do with stewed dried apricots.) Allow one cupful to every four persons. Add an equal quantity of whipped cream. Line sherbet cups with lady fingers and then fill with the Charlotte mixture.

Apricot Whip

Apricot Whip or Souffle—a dainty mixture of crushed fruit and the stiffly beaten whites of eggs; a dish for the special occasion or to tempt the appetite of an invalid or a child. Easily digested, light and wholesome.

Apricot and Prune Compote

Try the dried apricots for jam when hot breakfast breads replace toast. This will make a very popular accompaniment for hot cakes, waffles, hot biscuits or corn bread. And this jam is so easy to make: just cook the soaked fruit slowly until tender, then measure and add half as much sugar as fruit and simmer until thick and store in sterilized jars. For variety one cup of stewed prunes may be added to each quart of the cooked fruit. If a conserve is desired, add shredded blanched almonds to the dried apricot and prune combination.

These are only some of the exceptional desserts taking only a few minutes to prepare, yet presenting so appetizing a flavor and appearance they are sure to prove popular. Fruit is essential in a well-balanced diet—variety is quite necessary for the relish and appeal of food, all aids to digestion. These points should be kept in mind when planning meals. Try some of the good things you can make with dried apricots. This flavorful fruit will solve many of your dessert perplexities.

Olson-Claus

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning, Aug. 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Claus, when their daughter Esther became the bride of David Olson, Rev. E. A. Cooke officiating. Only the immediate friends and relatives were present.

The bride wore a beautiful suit of white silk brocade and carried brides roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Irma Claus, who wore a sand color coral canton crepe dress and carried salmon roses. Mr. Arthur Stewart was best man.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with ferns and gladioli, pink being the color scheme.

After the ceremony a delicious dinner was served by Mrs. Francis Wray and Miss Florence Newman.

Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known in Brainerd, the bride being a graduate of the Brainerd high school and the groom an employee of the telephone company.

The happy couple left Wednesday afternoon for Detroit where they will spend their honeymoon. The best wishes of their many friends follow them.

SPORTS

RUTH A. L.'S MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 16.—Babe Ruth got such a bad deal this year from pitchers, who refused to give him something good to cut at, that he was deprived of the chance to establish a new home-run record.

No one contends that pitchers should lay them in the Babe's groove for the mere purpose of letting him kill the ball, but it is maintained that something should be done to place restrictions on the intentional pass.

Several years ago, when the fans, who paid money to see the Babe crash 'em, complained that the opposing pitchers were not giving him a chance to do his stuff, the law-makers of the game sought means to curb the abuse of the intentional pass, but no remedy they have tried has been successful.

In a tight game it is but the part of managerial strategy to let a dangerous batter go down and the practice of passing a heavy hitter in a pinch was in vogue long before the Babe came into prominence. It has become a custom, however, since Ruth started to change the style of play in the big leagues.

Lee Fohl lost his job as manager of the Cleveland Indians because he permitted a pitcher to pitch to Ruth in a pinch several years ago, and some other managerial heads might be cut off if the same thing were done, now with a lot at stake on one game, but when a team is hopelessly beaten, it is not strategy to pass the Babe when even a clout for the four bases would not have a vital effect on the game.

Pitchers, when there is not too much at stake, should try to get the Babe, instead of taking the easy way out of it and giving him a pass. Many pitchers, no doubt, would like to do it. It doesn't make a game pitcher feel very courageous to admit his inferiority by letting him go down on four wide ones, but most of them have to do what the bench dictates.

Ruth has laurels enough to live on, and instead of decreasing his value as a player and a drawing-card, the practice of making it hard for him has only served to make the Babe bigger than ever and a better ball player than he ever was.

The Babe changed his style this season, with the result that he has a fine chance to lead the American League in batting. He still tries to knock homers, but only on the first two strikes. When he gets two on him he chokes his bat and tries for just a common, ordinary hit, and he has become very successful at it.

Figuring that he still has two out of three chances to do his stuff every time he is at the bat, his new system is sound, practically and mathematically.

HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT

Lineup Given for Tomorrow's Game With Little Falls at New Lum Park Courts

The lineup of the Brainerd team for tomorrow's horseshoe game with Little Falls at Lum Park will probably be as follows:

S. E. Engbreton,
Oscar Nelson,
Edward Englund,
Henry Krause,
S. Tollefson,
Ingolf Dillon,
O. E. Hickethier,
Clifford Russell.

We cannot give the lineup of the Little Falls team.

The above lineup is subject to change in case any of the players are not able to be in the game.

Four courts have just been completed at Lum Park and today electric lights are being put into place at the courts so as to enable the players to continue into the evening. This makes an ideal place to pitch horseshoes as the players can take the family or sweetheart along and they can enjoy an outing at the same time. It is expected there will be a large attendance of spectators.

McTIGUE AND TUNNEY MATCHED FOR TITLE BOUT SEPTEMBER 25

New York, Aug. 16.—Mike McTigue will risk his world's light heavyweight championship in a 15-round decision bout with Gene Tunney at the Polo grounds Sept. 25, according to Joe Jacobs, the champion's manager, who announced that he would sign the articles today.

Tunney has been challenging McTigue ever since the latter took the championship away from Battling Siki in Dublin last spring and is ready to sign with no quibbling over the price for Tunney is supremely confident that all he needs to capture the title is the chance and most of the experts are of the same mind. McTigue has never been considered better than a fair fighter whereas Tunney, however much he may lack the championship class of the old light heavyweights, is considered sufficiently capable to upset the accidental champion.

The signing of the bout will make the fifth world's championship fight in New York within a month, although it will be contingent upon McTigue's victory over Young Stribling in a no decision bout scheduled for Sept. 3. The fights now scheduled are:

Johnny Wilson vs. Harry Greb, Aug. 31.

Mike McTigue vs. Young Stribling, Sept. 3.

Benny Leonard vs. Johnny Dundee, Sept. 5.

Jack Dempsey vs. Luis Firpo, Sept. 14.

Mike McTigue vs. Gene Tunney, Sept. 25.

Five of the contestants are already in training in widely separated camps. Johnny Wilson and Harry Greb are down to serious work. Benny Leonard and Johnny Dundee, both of whom have just emerged from hard fights, have not so far to go to attain the pink but are working nevertheless and Jack Dempsey, having learned his lesson in Shelby, is starting with daily workouts for speed and accuracy.

OFFICIAL DEDICATION LUM PARK HORSESHOE COURTS ON FRIDAY

Brainerd horseshoe enthusiasts are rejoicing over the park board's action in installing four courts at Lum park. These courts are of regulation size and to add to their usefulness, the board is equipping them with electric lights, so that games may be played in the evening.

The courts are located toward the east end of the park along the automobile driveway, and will be given their official dedication on Friday afternoon, when the Little Falls aggregation comes to play their return tournament with Brainerd. It is planned to start the play about 4:30 p. m.

Little Falls and Brainerd met at the beginning of the season in the down-river city, on May 31st in an evening game on an indoor court. Brainerd lost the battle by a score of 18 to 14, due to a large extent to the local players being unaccustomed to playing by artificial lights and on an indoor court.

It is felt that Brainerd will give a better account of herself on Friday afternoon, and people of the city are invited to be present at the game.

Delaney, Loughran Matched

Oklahoma City, Aug. 16.—Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul and Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, have been matched for a 12 round decision bout in Oklahoma City on Labor day.

SPORTS

RUTH A. L.'S MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 16.—Babe Ruth got such a bad deal this year from pitchers, who refused to give him something good to cut at, that he was deprived of the chance to establish a new home-run record.

No one contends that pitchers should lay them in the Babe's groove for the mere purpose of letting him kill the ball, but it is maintained that something should be done to place restriction on the intentional pass.

Several years ago, when the fans, who paid money to see the Babe crash 'em, complained that the opposing pitchers were not giving him a chance to do his stuff, the law-makers of the game sought means to curb the abuse of the intentional pass, but no remedy they have tried has been successful.

In a tight game it is but the part of managerial strategy to let a dangerous batter go down and the practice of passing a heavy hitter in a pinch was in vogue long before the Babe came into prominence. It has become a custom, however, since Ruth started to change the style of play in the big leagues.

Lee Fohl lost his job as manager of the Cleveland Indians because he permitted a pitcher to pitch to Ruth in a pinch several years ago, and some other managerial heads might be cut off if the same thing were done, now with a lot at stake on one game, but when a team is hopelessly beaten, it is not strategy to pass the Babe when even a clout for the four bases would not have a vital effect on the game.

Pitchers, when there is not too much at stake, should try to get the Babe, instead of taking the easy way out of it and giving him a pass. Many pitchers, no doubt, would like to do it. It doesn't make a game pitcher feel very courageous to admit his inferiority by letting him go down on four wide ones, but most of them have to do what the bench dictates.

Ruth has laurels enough to live on, and instead of decreasing his value as a player and a drawing-card, the practice of making it hard for him has only served to make the Babe bigger than ever and a better ball player than he ever was.

The Babe changed his style this season, with the result that he has a fine chance to lead the American League in batting. He still tries to knock homers, but only on the first two strikes. When he gets two on him he chokes his bat and tries for just a common, ordinary hit, and he has become very successful at it.

Figuring that he still has two out of three chances to do his stuff every time he is at the bat, his new system is sound, practically and mathematically.

HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT

Lineup Given for Tomorrow's Game with Little Falls at New Lum Park Courts

The lineup of the Brainerd team for tomorrow's horseshoe game with Little Falls at Lum Park will probably be as follows:

S. E. Engbretson, Oscar Nelson, Edward Englund, Henry Krause, S. Tollefson, Ingolf Dillan, O. E. Hickethier, Clifford Russell.

We cannot give the lineup of the Little Falls team.

The above lineup is subject to change in case any of the players are not able to be in the game.

Four courts have just been completed at Lum Park and today electric lights are being put into place at the courts so as to enable the players to continue into the early evening. This makes an ideal place to pitch horseshoes as the players can take the family or sweetheart along and they can enjoy an outing at the same time. It is expected there will be a large attendance of spectators.

McTIGUE AND TUNNEY MATCHED FOR TITLE BOUT SEPTEMBER 25

New York, Aug. 16.—Mike McTigue will risk his world's light heavyweight championship in a 15-round decision bout with Gene Tunney at the Polo grounds Sept. 25, according to Joe Jacobs, the champion's manager, who announced that he would sign the articles today.

Tunney has been challenging McTigue ever since the latter took the championship away from Battling Siki in Dublin last spring and is ready to sign with no quibbling over the price for Tunney is supremely confident that all he needs to capture the title is the chance and most of the experts are of the same mind. McTigue has never been considered better than a fair fighter whereas Tunney, however much he may lack the championship class of the old light heavyweights, is considered sufficiently capable to upset the accidental champion.

The signing of the bout will make the fifth world's championship fight in New York within a month, although it will be contingent upon McTigue's victory over Young Stribling in a no decision bout scheduled for Sept. 3. The fights now scheduled are:

Johnny Wilson vs. Harry Greb, Aug. 31.
Mike McTigue vs. Young Stribling, Sept. 3.

Benny Leonard vs. Johnny Dundee, Sept. 5.
Jack Dempsey vs. Luis Firpo, Sept. 14.

Mike McTigue vs. Gene Tunney, Sept. 25.

Five of the contestants are already in training in widely separated camps. Johnny Wilson and Harry Greb are down to serious work. Benny Leonard and Johnny Dundee, both of whom have just emerged from hard fights, have not so far to go to attain the pink but are working nevertheless and Jack Dempsey, having learned his lesson in Shelby, is starting with daily workouts for speed and accuracy.

OFFICIAL DEDICATION LUM PARK HORSESHOE COURTS ON FRIDAY

Brainerd horseshoe enthusiasts are rejoicing over the park board's action in installing four courts at Lum park. These courts are of regulation size and to add to their usefulness, the board is equipping them with electric lights, so that games may be played in the evening.

The courts are located toward the east end of the park along the automobile driveway, and will be given their official dedication on Friday afternoon, when the Little Falls aggregation comes to play their return tournament with Brainerd. It is planned to start the play about 4:30 p. m.

Little Falls and Brainerd met at the beginning of the season in the down-river city, on May 31st in an evening game on an indoor court. Brainerd lost the battle by a score of 18 to 14, due to a large extent to the local players being unaccustomed to playing by artificial lights and on an indoor court.

It is felt that Brainerd will give a better account of herself on Friday afternoon, and people of the city are invited to be present at the game.

Delaney, Loughran Matched

Oklahoma City, Aug. 16.—Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul and Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, have been matched for a 12 round decision bout in Oklahoma City on Labor day.
